

DSL2018

14th International Conference on Diffusion in Solids and Liquids
AMSTERDAM (The Netherlands) from 25-29 June, 2018

Professor Dr. Manfred Martin

Head of Institute, Institute of Physical Chemistry, RWTH Aachen University, Germany

Professor Manfred Martin holds a PhD in Physics of the University of Hannover, Germany and after his postdoctoral stay at the University of Oxford, UK he was appointed as Professor of Physical Chemistry at the Technical University Darmstadt, Germany. Since 2000 he is Head of the Institute of Physical Chemistry of RWTH Aachen University, Germany. At Seoul National University, Korea he was World Class University Professor and is now Adjunct Professor. He has more than 30 years of experience in education and research of physical chemistry of solids as well as service at department, faculty and university level. His current research focusses on materials for energy conversion, resistive switching, solid-state reactions, secondary ion mass spectrometry, and computer simulations as well. Professor Manfred Martin has published more than 200 scientific papers in international, refereed journals. He is organizer of a series of international conferences and symposia and is invited for plenary, keynote, and invited lectures at international conferences and symposia on a regular basis. He received the Carl-Wagner Award and has been elected as member of the Royal Society of Chemistry. He has supervised more than 50 PhD students and more than 20 postdoctoral fellows. Professor Manfred Martin has won and managed a large number of research programs and grants, and he is serving in editorial boards and expert panels of Germany and overseas as well.
